

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. "Oh, don't go up," said an old man ; "stop !
It's blowing gales up there on top ;
You'll tumble off on the t'other side,"
But the hurrying stranger still replied :

CHORUS

"Oh, don't go up such a shocking bad night,
Come rest in this lap," said a maiden bright ;
A tear on his Roman nose did come,
But still he remarked, as upward he clumb :

"Look out for the branch of the sycamore tree, Dodge the rolling stones if any you see ;"
So saying, the farmer went to his bed,
But the singular voice replied overhead :

He saw thro' the windows as he kept a-gettin' up-
A number of families sitting at supper ; [per,
He eyed those slippery rocks very keen,
But fled as he cried, and cried while a fleein' :

About quarter-past six the next forenoon,
A man accidentally going up soon,
Heard spoken above him, as much as twice,
Those very same words in a very weak voice :

CHORUS

Not far, I believe, from a quarter of seven,
He was slow getting up, the road being uneven ;
He found, buried up in the snow and the ice,
The boy and the flag with the strange device :

Yes, he's dead, defunct, without any doubt,
The lamp of his life's entirely gone out,
On the drear hill-side the youth was a-layin',
And there was no more use for him to be a-sayin' :

gar, . I breath'd a sigh to think, in sooth, It was my last ci-gar. .

I watched the ashes as it came
Fast drawing to the end,
I watched it as a friend would watch
Beside a dying friend ;
But still the flame crept slowly on,
It vanished into air,
I threw it from me— spare the tale —
It was my last cigar.

I've seen the land of all I love
Fade in the distance dim,
I've watched above the blighted heart,
Where once proud hope hath been ;
But I've never known a sorrow
That could with that compare,
When off the blue Canary isles
I smoked my last cigar.

He has no maid or blooming wife,
He has no son to raise his hope—
Oh no! I would not be the Pope.

The Sultan better pleases me;
His life is full of jollity,
His wives are many as he will—
I fain the Sultan's throne would fill.

But still he is a wretched man,
He must obey the Alkoran,
He dare not drink one drop of wine;
I would not change his lot for mine.

So, when my sweetheart kisses me,
I'll think that I'd the Sultan be;
And when my Rhenish wine I tope,
Oh, then I'll think that I'm the Pope.

ver - y high, That you will hear them sigh, Well-a Boo - la, Boo, Boo - la

The first system of music features a vocal melody in the treble clef and piano accompaniment in the grand staff (treble and bass clefs). The melody consists of eighth and quarter notes, while the piano part provides harmonic support with chords and single notes.

Boo - la, Boo, Boo - la, Boo, Boo - la Boo - la, Boo - la, Boo !

The second system continues the vocal melody and piano accompaniment. The melody includes a final note with a fermata, and the piano part concludes with a sustained chord.

CHORUS

The third system is the beginning of the chorus, marked with a 'CHORUS' label. It features a more complex piano accompaniment with arpeggiated chords and a vocal melody with dotted rhythms.

Boo - la, . . When we "roughhouse" poor old Har - vard, They will hol - ler . . Boo - la

The fourth system continues the chorus. The piano accompaniment remains active with arpeggiated figures, and the vocal melody includes a long note with a fermata.

BARITONE SOLO

1. O - ver the ban - is - ter leans a face, Ten - der - ly sweet and be -

The first system of music is in 3/4 time. It features a vocal line in the treble clef and a piano accompaniment in the bass clef. The vocal line begins with a quarter note G4, followed by eighth notes A4, B4, and C5, then a quarter rest, and continues with a descending eighth-note scale. The piano accompaniment consists of a steady eighth-note bass line and chords in the right hand.

The musical notation consists of a vocal line in treble clef and a piano accompaniment in bass clef. The key signature has one sharp (F#), and the time signature is 2/4. The melody is simple and lyrical, with a gentle rise and fall. The piano accompaniment features chords and single notes that support the vocal line.

2 Nobody:—only those eyes of brown,
Tender and full of meaning,
Gaze on the loveliest face in town,
Over the banister leaning.
Timid and tired with downcast eyes,
I wonder why she lingers;
After all the good-nights are said,
Somebody holds her fingers.

3 Holds her fingers and draws her down,
Suddenly growing bolder,
Till her lovely hair lets its masses down,
Like a mantle over his shoulder.
There's a question asked, a swift caress,
She has fled like a bird from the stairway,
But over the banister comes a "yes,"
That brightens the world for him, alway.

3 This other young man was a son of a gun,
 CHORUS.— He was, he was.
 He went with a crowd of whom he was one,
 CHORUS.— He did, he did.
 He wore a loud necktie, a high standing collar,
 He'd go out nights, he'd get drunk and he'd holler,
 He was one of the kind that was known as a loller.
 CHORUS.— Johnny, fill up the bowl.

4 Now the old man's purse was long and fat,
 CHORUS.— It was, it was.
 The prodigal son he was on to that,
 CHORUS.— He was, he was.
 Likewise the young man with the heavenly smile
 Had his headlights fixed on the old man's pile,
 To come in for a share of it after a while,
 CHORUS.— Johnny, fill up the bowl.

5 To divide on the square the old man did his best,
 CHORUS.— He did, he did.
 The prod took his share and lit out for the West,
 CHORUS.— He did, he did.
 Went out with the boys, had a high old time,
 Woke up next morning with nary a dime,
 Sick and forlorn in a foreign clime.
 CHORUS.— Johnny, fill up the bowl.

6 The telegraph man in his office sat,
 CHORUS.— He did, he did.
 When in rushed a bum without any hat,
 CHORUS.— There did, there did.
 "Come, wire a message along the track,
 The prod's out West, but he's coming back,
 Put plenty of veal for one on the rack."
 CHORUS.— Johnny, fill up the bowl.

7 He turned up at home the very next day,
 CHORUS.— He did, he did.
 Sued his father and brother for time while away,
 CHORUS.— He did, he did.
 Got judgment and turned the old folks out,
 That's the kind of a prod I'm singing about,
 That's the kind of a prod for whom I shout, -
 CHORUS.— Johnny, fill up the bowl.

gals all sighed, and they cried "Oh, my!" They hollered blood - y mur - der, Dey

The second system continues the melody and accompaniment. The vocal line has a more active melody, and the bass line provides a consistent harmonic support.

near - ly carv'd dat coon to death, The coon that had the ra - zor, Dey

The third system shows the continuation of the song. The vocal line includes a melodic phrase, and the bass line maintains the accompaniment.

carv'd his coat, Dey carv'd his hat, Dey carv'd him to the fat, Dey

The fourth system continues the musical progression. The vocal line has a melodic phrase, and the bass line provides a steady accompaniment.

near - ly carv'd dat coon to death. 'Cause he had a darn big ra - zor.
 Well! what for did
 dey carve dat coon?

The fifth system concludes the musical piece. It features a final melodic phrase in the vocal line and a corresponding accompaniment in the bass line. The lyrics are repeated for emphasis.

LAST VERSE

"Oh, no," said the maiden, "be cautious and wise,
Or my father will scratch out your nails with his eyes;
If you really love me, don't bring me disgrace,"
Said the maid as she buried her hands in her face.

But when she refused him he knocked down the maid,
And silently drew out the knife of his blade;
He then cut the throat of the maiden so fair,
And dragged her around by the head of her hair.

Just then her old papa appeared, it appears,
And gazed on the sad scene with eyes in his tears;
He knelt down beside her, her pale face he kissed,
Then he rushed with his nose at the murderer's fist.

He looked at the lover and told him to bolt,
He drew a horse pistol, 'twas raised from a colt,
Said he, "Now I die, if I stay, it is true,"
Said he, "Now I fly," and he flew up the flue.

Nasty old hole, scarce room to stand or sit,
I up and stabbed myself right through the corset:
I'm Juliet, I'm Juliet.

This of my tale is the short and the long,
Of Romeo and Juliet,
This is the moral of my little song,
Of Romeo and Juliet;
Lovers, I warn you, always be wary,
Don't buy your drinks of an apothecary,
Don't stab yourself in the left pulmonary,
Like Romeo and Juliet.

Last evening I went out to make a call,
 I heard her lovely footsteps in the hall,
 I hid behind a curtain and

When she came in I kissed her—
 A word will make you understand,
 It was her married sister.

CHORUS.—He never will call there again!
 And now I'm looking, etc.

I asked a girl to have some soda water,
 I did, you know, because I thought I oughter;
 But when the moment came to pay,

I found to my great sorrow,
 I did not have a cent that day—
 From her, I had to borrow.

CHORUS.—From the maiden he borrowed a dime!
 And now I'm looking, etc.

Last night, as I was walking down the street,
 A great big Irishman I chanced to meet;
 He rudely brushed against my sleeve,
 An act which I resented,
 And, as you well may understand,
 I speedily repented.

CHORUS.—He used me to wipe up the street!
 And now I'm looking, etc.
